Introduction:

* Since the inception of the theory and idea of development, the common feadure that emerged in different point of time is the developmental gab that emerged in different parts of the world and also among various parts of a country in a particular time period.

* This disparity in development, like many other indicitors, has also been reflected in india. Traditional development the ories believed that agriculture, Industrialisation,urbanization,are significant ingredients of growdh, and, ultimately prerequisites for achieving development.

*Collection of prices of new and resale houses located in metropolitan areas of india.

*The amenities provided for each house.
